More Than Two Million Dollars In War Bonds Sold

Adams county roared into the "home-stretch" of the Fifth War Bond drive this morning, kicked over the two million dollar obstacle and pounded ahead towards its goal of $2,797,000.

Tabulating Wednesday's purchases, from reports submitted by issuing agents in the county, observers in the War Finance Committee offices announced this morning that the total subscriptions thus far reach the amazing figure of $2,046,337.50. This is an increase of $211,331.25 over the previous day's report.

Wednesday's sales were the second highest for any single day since the drive opened June 12th and Chairman Edmund W. Thomas predicted that the county is expected to oversubscribe its quota. He declined to make a prediction as to the extent of the expected "over-subscription" but stated:

Week To Go

"I feel reasonably sure that our several hundred volunteer workers will not let us down now. We have about a week to go in the drive and if our workers continue their efforts in those remaining days I don't see how we can miss going over-the-top."

The response in this, our fifth financial drive of the war, is really encouraging. Everybody, it seems, wants to do his or her share of bond buying to hasten the day when the Allies achieve that long-coveted victory and all our boys can come home again."

Mr. Thomas again appealed to the volunteer workers to continue their "fine work until we have reached our quota." He also urged issuing agencies to continue their daily reports so that the daily progress may be announced.

MERCURY HITS 90 DEGREES

Gettysburg and Adams county continued to swelter today as the seasonal warm-weather-continued unabated. The mercury in the official thermometer of Dr. Henry Stewart was near the 90 mark at noon time and was headed upward as the afternoon swelled.

Today was expected to be the hottest during the warm spell which began Monday with a maximum of 89 recorded Wednesday and 90 top established on Tuesday. Wednesday night was the hottest of the spell with the thermometer dropping to only 68 at the coolest time this morning. The minimum on Wednesday was 67 and the minimum on Tuesday was 68.

Cooler man in the county probably was Chief Boatswain's Mate Ralph F. Downs, present war veteran who is touring the county in the interests of the Fifth War Loan. Temperatures in the Pacific where for 16 months he was engaged in fighting the Japanese hung around the 120 and 130 degree marks during the days, he said.

Two Treated For Minor Injuries

Lloyd W. Herring, 45, Biglerville R. 1, was treated at the Warner hospital Wednesday evening for an injury to the great toe on his left foot. He was injured when he was struck by a pedal on a riveting machine.

Lee Place, 31, Littlestown R. 2, received treatment for a dislocated left shoulder Wednesday evening. His shoulder became dislocated when horses he was driving reared up causing a strain on the driver.

ESCAPES BOMBS IN INVASION OF FRENCH BEACHES

Lieutenant Clarence W. Epley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Epley, Chambersburg street, and youngest Adams countian to be commissioned in the United States Army, narrowly escaped death on the beaches of Normandy during the invasion of France.

This information was contained in a letter young Epley wrote his parents today from "somewhere in France." It is the first detailed letter received here from the invasion front. Excerpts follow:

"When we came back to England from Italy we had about three weeks' rest and then went into training for this invasion."

Young Epley served with the invasion troops of North Africa, Sicily and Italy. The invasion of France was his fourth campaign.

"After we received our training and briefing we returned to our staging area and then loaded on boats. I was on an LCI (Landing Craft Infantry)," he wrote.

Bomb Misses Hotel

"While we were in the briefing area we had a very heavy air raid. A bomb just missed our hotel, by about a half block. Too close for comfort."

"We landed in France on June 6, about 10 o'clock in the morning. On the way over we had wonderful air and sea protection. The best I have ever seen. When we landed on the beach things were hot. We could not land where we were supposed to so we moved to another spot. Then I took the men down to the spot assigned to us. We had plenty of close calls from 66 shells."

"We went to work. We got our mines out our roads in and our defense set up. I had a few casualties but no deaths. Thank God."

"The air force and the Navy did a wonderful job. They played havoc with shore installations. In all my previous (three) invasions, this is the first that when you heard planes overhead you did not have to dive for a foxhole. We had some light raids and the Germans did some heavy bombing and some strafing."

Praises Infantry Troops

"The boys who did the fighting on the beaches are the infantry and the airborne troops. They went in with the idea that nothing could stop them, and nothing did. My hat's off to them. They did such a good job that I don't know how to say it in words."

"Enemy artillery fire on our beach-head did a lot of damage. I never came so close to getting hit so many times as I did on this operation. Those 86 shells just missed my men and myself by a few feet. You can hear them coming and you have about five seconds to hit the beach. I was really lucky."

"The closest I ever came was on the second day. We had one of those sneak air attacks. The planes came up the beach strafing and one dropped an egg about 25 feet from my sergeant and myself. We were both coming up the beach and saw the planes coming. We hit a small ravine caused by the tide going out. A sailor hit between us. After the plane went over we got up to continue up the beach but the sailor didn't. We looked to see how badly he was hit, but it was too late. I was really lucky that time."

Few Night Raids

"We still have a few air raids at night but haven't had any during the daytime for awhile."

"These boys really can take a lot. They could tell a lot, too, but they don't talk very much."

"Good old Mother Earth saved my neck a lot of times. Those foxholes are wonderful. Just like Robert Thompson, Jr. said, 'There is nothing like a foxhole to live in.' You can take that two ways, too."

Martin Sees GOP Victory In State

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania Governor Edward Martin predicted today that the Dewey-Bricker ticket "will win overwhelmingly" in his home state and return Pennsylvania to the GOP column for the first time since 1932.

Martin chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation, said he made the prediction after receiving "word from home."

Pennsylvania GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said the Republican State Committee will meet in Pittsburgh in two months to adopt a Pennsylvania party platform which will be patterned after the national program.

The Pennsylvania delegation is scheduled to arrive home tomorrow.

GETS CLUSTER TO AIR MEDAL

With U. S. South Pacific Army Forces (By Mail)—Lieutenant General Millard F. Harmon, commanding U. S. Army Forces in the South Pacific, announced the award of the Oak Leaf Cluster in lieu of an additional Air Medal on June 12, 1944, to Technical Sergeant Kenneth A. Stoner of Gettysburg, as aerial radio operator gunner from April 8 to April 19, 1944.

A bronze Oak-Leaf Cluster is awarded for meritorious achievement while participating in sustained combat operational missions of a hazardous nature during which enemy opposition is met, or during which an area is traversed where enemy antiaircraft fire is effective or where enemy fighter patrols are habitually encountered.

The missions for which the award was given were with the 18th AAF.

Sergeant Stoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stoner, Gettysburg R. 2, graduated from Fairfield high school in 1940 and was inducted August 17, 1942, at New Cumberland. He was an assembly worker at the Landis Tool company, Waynesboro before entering the service.

Short of Choice Cuts

The decision to put points back on lamb was made. OPA said when three out of four of the agency's 91 district offices reported choice cuts were short of demand.

Because return of popular lamb cuts to the chart is counterbalanced by a smaller supply of beef, housewives will continue to get only 30 points a month for buying meats and fats. The allotment was 60 points a month before all meat except choice beef was made ration free early in May.

All pork, veal and the cheaper cuts of beef and lamb remain point free, and butter and margarine continue at 12 and two points a pound, respectively.

Soft cheeses, the so-called perishable varieties including Swiss and cream, go from a point free value to four points a pound.

In the words of the citation, Sergeant Black "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy." A tail turret gunner, Sergeant Black is stationed in Italy with a 15th AAF Liberator Bombardment group which has been bombing German-held targets in Europe.

A graduate of the Biglerville high school, Sergeant Black was employed by the Brant and Stuart company, of Mechanicsburg, prior to entering the Armed Forces. He has been serving with the Air Force since March 1, 1943.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Robert and Barbara Swope, Gettysburg R. 3; Donald Kuhn, Biglerville; Judy Shetter, Biglerville; Joanne Deardorff, Steinwehr avenue, and Lois Gathier, Aspers R. 1, were operated upon at the Warner hospital this morning for the removal of their tonsils.

A Japanese broadcast reporting the fall of the American base described Hengyang as a "Japanese stronghold" and said it was hit twice in a day by P-40s, with casualties and destruction of military installations.

The communiqué added that Hengyang was reported to be in flames. Loss of this Hunan province center would be the greatest military blow to China since 1938.

More Than 2,600 GI's Registered

"More than 2,600 countians have been registered for the GI ballot," a spokesman for the Civilian Defense Council said today, with Wednesday's completed figures showing that 2,574 registration cards had been turned in to the county CD headquarters.

Enough additional registrations have been reported today to push the number over the 2,600 mark, it was said. While the canvass is complete in the county, some additional "mopping up" is still being done with CD canvassers visiting homes where they previously were unable to find anyone at home to complete the registration of members of the armed forces.

LOCAL WOMEN TAKE PART IN NCCW MEETING

Sessions of the 20th annual convention of the Harrisburg Diocesan council of the National Council of Catholic Women came to a close today at York with nearly 100 Adams county women among the 600 in attendance.

Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, of Gettysburg NCCW council, was a speaker this morning at a panel discussion on "Family Parent Education," at which Mrs. Joseph Michels was discussion leader. Regina Moore, New Oxford, represented the Conewago Deanery, which includes all Adams county councils, at a panel on "Youth Problems in War Times," held at a Youth luncheon Wednesday. She presented the idea that "parental delinquency" should be attacked first in combating problems of juvenile delinquency.

Miss Mary Eberhart, Gettysburg, secretary of the diocesan council and president of the Conewago deanery, presented a summary of the activities of the county councils.

Other Speakers

Principal speaker Wednesday evening was the Rev. Fr. John P. Cronin, St. Mary's seminary, Baltimore, who urged Catholic women to "keep alive the great standards of the Christian home, because those ideals are what our fighting men are expecting to return to." He spoke on "The Family in War Time." Three problems undermining "the very things we are fighting for overseas are juvenile delinquency, broken homes and so-called emancipation of women."

Father Cronin declared, "He could not see the necessity of employing mothers in defense plants when there remains a great body of men, of races and creeds, against which employers discriminate who are left unemployed in war work."

Miss Anna Dill Gable, author, presented an account of the French Catholic settlers who explored York county and settled near New Oxford, establishing the Conewago chapel. Bishop George L. Leech, who announced there is not a woman in the country without a woman's council; Mrs. Robert Angelo, York, national president and the Rev. James M. Lawler, assistant to the general secretary of the NCCW, were other speakers at the meetings Wednesday.

Further information is available at the WAVE office of the Navy Recruiting Station in the York post office building. Appointments are not necessary at the WAVE office, it was said.

WAVES IN NEED OF ENLISTEES

Openings as commissioned officers in the WAVES for county girls were announced today by Capt. T. T. Patterson, director of Naval Officer Procurement for the Fourth Naval District. He also announced there is still a need for over 40,000 enlisted girls in the WAVES.

BOY AND GIRL SCOUTS ASSIST IN BOND DRIVE

Boy Scouts of the Black Walnut district were reported today as doing "very well" in their "Scouts as Gleaners" campaign to promote the sale of war bonds during the Fifth War Loan drive despite the fact that many of the Scouts are at work in the county's cherry orchards and are unable to devote full time to the work.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, chairman of the Black Walnut district, today added that the town's Girl Scouts will take part in the campaign starting next week and will perform the same duty as the scouts—visiting every home in the district to ask the residents to sign pledge cards that they will buy specified amounts of war bonds in the current campaign.

Mrs. George Hill, leader of the Cardinal Girl Scout troop today assured Doctor Tilberg that her troop will take part in the drive. Officials of the Carolyn Cordon Girl Scout troop were not immediately able to state whether that troop will take part as its leader, Miss Mary Ramer, is attending a convention in York today.

CANVASS TOWN

The Boy Scout troops in Gettysburg this week are working in various sections of the town, with Troop 79 engaged in seeking pledges in that section of town south of York street and east of Baltimore street and Steinwehr avenue. Troop 80 has all of the town north of York street and east of Carlisle. Troop 77 is engaged in the section west of Carlisle street and north of Chambersburg street and Springs avenue and Troop 78 has the area south of Chambersburg street and Springs avenue and east of Baldmore street and Steinwehr avenue. The corner of the streets are the dividing lines between the divisions.

Monday the entire district will be thrown open to all Scouts, both Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Doctor Tilberg said, with the Scouts able to go to any place in the Black Walnut district to secure pledges.

Scouts of the Biglerville, Bendersville, Arendtsville and Castleton sections are seeking pledges in the territory surrounding their home communities during the current week and will also be able to go anywhere in the county next week. The campaign closes July 8.

GERMANS RUSH INTO FINLAND

Stockholm, June 29 (AP)—Finland was faced with the threatened collapse of virtually all semblance of democratic government today as Nazi troops swarmed through that tragic Baltic country, now plunged into full military collaboration with Germany.

At a parliament meeting today the five cabinet ministers of the dominant social Democratic party were scheduled to withdraw formally from the government of President Risto Ryti and Premier Edwin Linkomies, which opened the doors of southern Finland to Nazi troops.

Such action would strip the Finnish government of a great segment of popular support. Associated Press Correspondent Robert Shadrack, who returned to Stockholm after five days in Helsinki, said he had the impression that the resignations might be withheld, however, lest they cause collapse of the morale of Finnish troops at the front.

Finland is now a democracy in name more than name only since Vice Minister and Foreign Minister Gen. Henrik Ramsay accepted Nazi foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's proposal for full military collaboration with the Germans without consulting parliament. Some address said the decision would have met a resounding defeat if they did.

Public Hearing By VLB At Harrisburg

Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—The third regular war loan drive announced today in the U. S. Building Hearing Col. J. A. Harrington, head of the Bureau of War Bond Management, defining the Hartmann's market for the purpose of establishing minimum "sound and tested" rates for the metal, glass and rubber industries. "Normally it is not necessary for the board to conduct hearings of this sort," said Chairman Silas Garrett. "The Harrisons are however, has long been a persistent problem."

Wedding

Frock-Knippel

Mrs. Laura Knippel, Hanover, has announced the marriage of her daughter, Catherine Eloise, to Lt. Charles Francis Frock, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Frock, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony took place Tuesday, June 6, at 4 p.m. in West Point Chapel following Lt. Frock's graduation from the United States Military Academy at West Point earlier in the day.

The bride wore a light blue wool suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Miss Pearl Knippel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore light gray with black accessories and a corsage of purple orchids. Lt. John L. Sussot, roommate of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Hanover high school and attended Prowell's business college at York. Lt. Frock was graduated from the Littlestown high school and attended Gettysburg college before securing the appointment to West Point. The couple has just returned from a three-week wedding trip. Lt. and Mrs. Frock will be stationed at the Ordnance School, Ordnance Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland.

YANKS IN ITALY PUNCH FORWARD: GAIN FIVE MILES

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Rome, June 29 (AP)—Along a highway littered with enemy dead and abandoned equipment, American troops of the Fifth Army punched forward another five miles along Italy's west coast yesterday and captured the town of Castagneto, only 28 miles from Livorno, while a second American column farther inland pierced through German lines to within a dozen miles of Siena. Allied headquarters said a recent guest in the Dunn home.

Pvt. Emerson Orner has returned to Camp Grant, Ill., after an eight-day furlough spent with his wife in Bendersville.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hildebrand, Baltimore, visited their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carl Hildebrand, Biglerville, Tuesday.

The Blue Ribbon club was entertained this afternoon by Mrs. Edward Orner.

The Good Samaritan Sunday school class of Trinity Lutheran church held its annual picnic in the Union park Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Owen and family of York, and Mrs. L. L. Taylor, of Cicero, Illinois, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Criswell and Carey Criswell.

Communion services will be held in the Zion Evangelical Reformed church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Control New Road

Capture of Castagneto gave the Allies control of an important lateral road which formerly linked the enemy's coastal defenders with the Nazi's central sector.

The enemy intensified by every conceivable means the retarding of the Fifth Army advance, felling trees across roads, then booby trapping them, destroying all bridges and laying minefields. The tactics failed to prevent a close pursuit, and an enemy infantry company which attempted to break the advance by infiltration back into the captured village of Sassetto was wiped out.

An American armored force driving from the southwest captured the road junction town of Monticello on Highway 73 and leading elements thrust beyond to within 12 miles of Siena. The village of Monticello also was taken.

The French on the right wing of the Fifth Army, reported substantial gains, capturing the towns of Monticello, Plenza and Montalcino, all southeast of Siena.

It was announced that the Army alone has taken over 25,000 prisoners since the offensive began seven weeks ago today, bringing to more than 32,000 the total bag of prisoners for the offensive.

William J. Blair, of Quaker Valley, is on a business trip to Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Geiselman, of Biglerville, accompanied by Mrs. Geiselman's mother, Mrs. Garrick, and daughter, Betty, of Hanover, recently returned after a trip to Portsmouth, Virginia, where they visited Mrs. Garrick's son, S. C. George Garrick.

Mrs. S. E. Kapp, of Biglerville, is spending some time in Camp Hill with her mother, Mrs. C. F. Floto, to Luther W. Ritter, president of the club of Littlestown at the weekly dinner meeting Tuesday evening at Schott's restaurant.

Other officers installed were: Walter F. Crouse, vice president; Lloyd E. Crouse, treasurer; L. D. Snyder, secretary, and Harry J. Irvin, sergeant-at-arms. The installation service was in charge of Rotarian Paul E. King, who prior to the ceremony gave a short talk on the activities of the club during the past year and outlined the duties of the officers.

The retiring president, Luther W. Ritter, presented the gavel and president's pin to Mr. Crouse. The past president's pin was presented with her mother, Mrs. C. F. Floto, to Luther W. Ritter, president of the club who is seriously ill at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Floto.

Mrs. Arthur E. Rice, Jr., and daughter, Gudrun, arrived today from Staten Island to visit Mrs. Arthur E. Rice, of Biglerville.

Directors Meeting

A directors meeting followed the club meeting. A contribution was voted to Boy Scout Troop No. 34 and to the Littlestown Community Playground. The directors for the club year are Nevaeh A. Crouse, Luther W. Ritter, Harrison Snyder, Cloy Crouse, Walter F. Crouse, Ernest C. Dunbar and Roy D. Knouse.

The committees appointed by the president for the new club year are as follows: Program, Paul E. King; chairman; Luther W. Ritter, Dr. J. R. Rider and Preston Myers; club service, Walter F. Crouse, chairman; Richard A. Little, Harry J. Irvin and Dr. H. A. Stoner; fellowship, Edward Richardson, chairman; William V. Snider, Dr. K. Knouse and L. D. Snyder; classification and membership, Stanley B. Stover, chairman; Thomas C. McSherry, Walter D. Shoemaker and Roy D. Knouse; attendance, Charles M. Weicker, chairman; Marvin J. Harmer, Howard G. Blecher and Harrison Snyder; vocational service, Harry J. Irvin, chairman; A. W. Scott, Ernest D. Dunbar and Lloyd E. Crouse; community service, Richard A. Little, chairman; the Rev. D. S. Hammerer, Cloy J. Crouse and Arthur E. Barr; international service, Dr. H. A. Stoner, George Smith, Dr. Donald B. Cooper and Lloyd L. Stavely.

Terms are to be made known at the time of the sale.

WALTER F. CROUSE, Executor, Littlestown, R. D. 1, Pennsylvania.

J. Arthur Boyd, Auctioneer.

BOY AND GIRL SCOUTS ASSIST IN BOND DRIVE

Boy Scouts of the Black Walnut district were reported today as doing "very well" in their "Scouts as Gleaners" campaign to promote the sale of war bonds during the Fifth War Loan drive despite the fact that many of the Scouts are at work in the county's cherry orchards and are unable to devote full time to the work.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, chairman of the Black Walnut district, today added that the town's Girl Scouts will take part in the campaign starting next week and will perform the same duty as the scouts—visiting every home in the district to ask the residents to sign pledge cards that they will buy specified amounts of war bonds in the current campaign.

Mrs. George Hill, leader of the Cardinal Girl Scout troop today assured Doctor Tilberg that her troop will take part in the drive. Officials of the Carolyn Codori Girl Scout troop were not immediately able to state whether that troop will take part as its leader, Miss Mary Ramer, is attending a convention in York today.

CANVASS TOWN

The Boy Scout troops in Gettysburg this week are working in various sections of the town, with Troop 79 engaged in seeking pledges in that section of town south of York street and east of Baltimore street and Steinwehr avenue.

Troop 80 has all of the town north of York street and east of Carlisle. Troop 77 is engaged in the section west of Carlisle street and north of Chambersburg street and Springs avenue and Troop 78 has the area south of Chambersburg street and Springs avenue and east of Baltimore street and Steinwehr avenue. The center of the streets are the dividing lines between the divisions.

Monday the entire district will be thrown open to all Scouts, both Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Doctor Tilberg said with the Scouts able to go to any place in the Black Walnut district to secure pledges.

Scouts of the Bigerville, Bendersville, Arendtsville and Cashtown sections are seeking pledges in the territory surrounding their home communities during the current week and will also be able to go anywhere in the county next week. The campaign closes July 8.

GERMANS RUSH INTO FINLAND

Stockholm, June 29 (AP)—Finland was faced with the threatened collapse of virtually all semblance of democratic government today as Nazi troops swarmed through that tragic Baltic country, now plunged into full military collaboration with Germany.

At a parliament meeting today the five cabinet ministers of the dominant social Democratic party were scheduled to withdraw formally from the government of President Risto Ryti and Premier Edwin Linkomies, which opened the doors of Germany.

Such action would strip the Finnish government of a great segment of popular support. Associated Press Correspondent Robert Sturdevant, who returned to Stockholm after five days in Helsinki, said he had the impression that the resignations might be withheld, however, lest they cause collapse of the morale of Finnish troops at the front.

Finland is now democracy in little more than name only since Ryti, Linkomies and Foreign Minister Sir Henrik Ramsay accepted Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's proposals for full military collaboration with the Germans without consulting parliament. Some advised the decision would have met a resounding defeat if they did.

Public Hearing By WLB At Harrisburg

Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—The third regional war labor board announced today it will hold a public hearing July 7 at Harrisburg to hear views of labor and management on defining the Harrisburg labor market for the purpose of establishing minimum "sound and tested" wage rates for the metal trades industry.

"Normally it is not necessary for the board to conduct hearings of this sort," said Chairman Sylvester Garrett. "The Harrisburg area, however, has long been a perplexing problem."

We have been proceeding on the assumption that metal working establishments in cities like Mechanicsburg and Carlisle should be included among the firms in the area but that firms in Millersburg, Lebanon, Myersburg and Lykens are too far away to be properly lumped in with the Harrisburg rates."

Wedding Frock-Knippel

Mrs. Laura Knippel, Hanover, has announced the marriage of her daughter, Catherine Eloise, to Lt. Charles Francis Frock, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Frock, Littlestown. The double ring ceremony took place Tuesday, June 6, at 4 p.m., in West Point chapel following Lt. Frock's graduation from the United States Military academy at West Point earlier in the day.

The bride wore a light blue wool suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Miss Pearl Knippel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore light gray with black accessories and a corsage of purple orchids. Lt. John L. Susott, roommate of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Hanover high school and attended Prowell's business college at York. Lt. Frock was graduated from the Littlestown high school and attended Gettysburg College before securing the appointment to West Point. The couple has just returned from a three-week's wedding trip. Lt. and Mrs. Frock will be stationed at the Ordnance School, Ordnance Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland.

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Livorno is an important port 11 miles below Pisa, while Siena is a key rail and communications center 31 miles south of Florence.

An official spokesman declared the enemy "is showing signs of confusion" in the coastal sector, where the incessant battering by American guns caused heavy casualties and the roundup of prisoners from demoralized German units progressed steadily.

Control New Road

Capture of Castagneto gave the Allies control of an important lateral road which formerly linked the enemy's coastal defenders with the Nazi's central sector.

PAIR HELD FOR JEWEL THEFTS

Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—A dapper, dark-haired man and his attractive blonde wife were held today. FBI Agent John F. Sears said in connection with jewel thefts from wealthy society figures from coast to coast.

A raid on the couple's apartment yesterday, Sears said, produced two revolvers, a blackjack, a can of ether, three bottles of chloroform, eight bottles of "knockout drops" and a notebook with names and addresses of wealthy women in all parts of the country, with descriptions of their jewelry.

U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin held the man, booked as Henry George Stanforth, 38, in $10,000 bail on a charge of violating the Selective Service act. The woman, booked as Marjorie Smith Stanforth, 26, was detained at police headquarters.

Sears said they were wanted on mail robbery charges in Los Angeles, Kansas City and Brookline, Massachusetts, and for thefts of cash from Boston department stores.

SOVIET TROOPS DRAWING TRAP AROUND MINSK

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, June 29 (AP)—Soviet armies converging on Minsk drove within 37 miles of the White Russian capital today pushing the Germans swiftly back over the same road to Warsaw and Berlin which Napoleon followed in his disastrous retreat from Moscow.

Like a huge grasping hand, the Red Army reached for Minsk while artillery and bombers blasted a way for the ground forces.

The hand-like Soviet offensive was formed by units fanning out to the northeast of Minsk like fingers, while strong groups southeast of the city formed the thumb.

With the freeing of Mogilev the Russians for the first time in nearly three years have a direct rail route between Leningrad and Odessa.

Route Important

A Russian military commentator, Col. Nikolai Atikov, said the re-opening of this rail route "is a factor which should not be under-estimated, for the advantage it affords in transferring forces parallel to the line of the front is one of the major conditions for achieving supremacy in any direction chosen for new blows."

The Russians have had four-fifths of the railway in working order since the winter, but have been unable to use the section passing through Vitebsk, Orsha, Mogilev and Zhlobin.

Field dispatches said the Germans had retreated from this area so quickly they had had little time to damage the rail line.

The three main thrusts at Minsk were: Down the old Smolensk-Warsaw road; over the Bykovo-Minsk highway across the middle of the Berezina river; up through the valley of the Pisch river over the Gomel-Minsk railway and highway.

Threaten From North

Red Army troops on the Smolensk road reached the upper Berezina north of Borisov, near the actual place where Napoleon with his staggering remnants, made a crossing at the village of Studenky. Here advance units were 37 miles northeast of Minsk and Borisov appeared as good as gone.

On the Bykovo-Minsk highway Red Army units approached the middle Berezina area through rolling woodlands. In the valley of the Pisch the Russians northwest of Osipovich were 55 miles from Minsk.

Two large scale outflanking movements were part of the Soviet grand strategy aimed at the fall of Minsk.

Two Flanking Drives

Number one is a swift sweep of Gen. Ivan Bagramian's First Baltic Army through the Lepel lake country. Here advance units were approaching Polotsk and were within 30 miles of the Polotsk-Minsk railway, cutting of which would isolate Minsk from the north and cut off Polotsk from the south.

The second outflanking movement is by Gen. Konstantin Rotovskiy's First White Russian Army, moving down the Bobruisk-Brest-Litovsk highway west of captured Staryi Dorozi. This road skirts the Minsk marshes and leads to positions from which the Minsk-Warsaw railway could be cut from south of Minsk.

Postpone Auction Of Bat Until Sunday

Pittsburgh, June 29 (AP)—An old pitted and battered baseball bat, once the war club of Honus Wagner, the Pirates' "Flying Dutchman" of 30 and 40 years ago, will be auctioned off Sunday at the Pittsburg-Boston doubleheader at Forbes Field.

The auction originally was scheduled for last night's war relief benefit game but was postponed when the donor, Timothy Kalagher of Greenville, Pa., was unable to be present.

Kalagher got the prized possession after Wagner cracked it during an exhibition game at Sharon. Kalagher was then a boy. He passed it on to his son, Timothy Jr.

Young Timothy was killed during the invasion of Normandy. His parents received word of his death Sunday—the youth's 20th birthday—and his mother is still suffering from shock. That is why the Kalaghers were unable to be present for the scheduled auction last night.

Fred Clemente of the Albany mound staff was credited last night with his second Eastern league victory in two days.

In the meantime, his partners also were coming through. Dorothy Germain posted a .77, the best score among the women, while Amateur Don Armstrong of Aurora, Illinois, and Senior Arnold Minkley of Chicago fashioned .75s. The combination of scores gave McSpaden, Germain and McSpaden—Minkley the pro-woman and pro-senior lead.

The pro-amateur lead was held by the 1943 winning team, Sam Byrd, who had a .70, and Bob Cochran of St. Louis, who led the Simon Pure with a .68—133 total. McSpaden and Armstrong were second with .139.

WINS SECOND IN TWO DAYS

(By The Associated Press)

Fred Clemente of the Albany mound staff was credited last night with his second Eastern league victory in two days.

Clemente stepped in as relief hurler against Utica, after having worked against Binghamton the night before, and the Senators emerged with a 10-5 victory.

Hartford's Laurels retained their three-game hold on first place by defeating Binghamton, 6-4. Elmira downed Scranton, 6-4, and Williamsport topped Wilkes-Barre, 5-3.

The Laurels crossed up the Binghamton Tripletts to break a 3-3 deadlock. With the bases full and two out in the sixth, Manager De' Bissonette of the league-leaders called for a bunt. A bad throw to the plate let one run in. Two more followed immediately after on a hit.

Otutit 11-6, Elmira's Pioneers bunched five of their runs in the third on a single bingle. Ernie Bickhaus was credited with the victory.

Dan Parra, Cuban southpaw, hurled his seventh victory as Williamsport turned back the Barons.

Knowles Leading Senior Golf Meet

Rye, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—Ellis Knowles, who is likely to become the first three-time winner of the United States seniors golf championship, contends that he is a better golfer now than when he was inter-collegiate champion and quarter-finalist in the National amateur tourney in 1937. The 57-year-old Knowles shot 71-74-145 to lead the first division of seniors over the Apawamis course. He pointed out that in 1936, a 77 was a good enough score to win the inter-collegiate qualifying medal. The second division of seniors will play today and tomorrow but none is expected to threaten Knowles' lead.

Wellsville Wins 5 To 4 Decision

Buffalo, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—The Wellsville Yankees, nearly blowing a five-run lead in the eighth frame just lasted to take a 5-4 decision from Hornell in a Pony league game last night.

The Pirates pounced on Lefty Bob Pirrelli, Wellsville hurler, for two singles and a double and took advantage of two errors to score four unearned runs in the almost disastrous eighth.

Lockport pushed two runs across in the tenth to defeat Batavia, 8-6. The victory placed the Cubs on top of the Pony league heap. Both clubs used three hurlers in an effort to squelch sluggers who piled up a total of 27 hits.

In a twin bill, Bradford was squashed deeper into the cellar as Olean squeezed into sixth place with the 3-1, 7-6 victories. The nightcap went ten innings.

Jamestown scored an 8-2 win to sink the Erie sailors into second place in the standings.

Predicts Larger State Vote For FDR

Harrisburg, June 29 (AP)—A prediction President Roosevelt will receive a larger majority in Pennsylvania this year than he did in 1940 was made by Democratic state Chairman David L. Lawrence following nomination by the Republican convention of Governors Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker for president and vice president.

Lawrence said he was "delighted" with the nominations.

He was to confer with party leaders today at Hazleton and Bloomsburg.

JAPS TRAPPED ON NEW GUINEA

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, June 29 (AP)—A trap, already narrowed to 150 miles, was compressed today on thousands of Japanese at Wewak, British New Guinea.

The erasure of 80 jungle coast miles in 28 days by Australians who are within 70 miles of Wewak on the east was disclosed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Americans have been approximately 80 miles from it on the west since Wewak was bypassed in the April 22 invasion of Aitape. Aitape is 90 miles away but tank patrols since have pushed back east toward Wewak for at least 10 miles.

These thousands of imperiled Japanese have been left far behind by additional leapfrog operations by which have carried MacArthur to Biak Island in the Schoutens of North Dutch New Guinea. Biak is more than 400 miles northwest of Wewak.

The Aussies approaching Wewak from the east have crossed the mouth of Sepik river. In their 80-mile march from Buna-Bunbar harbor they overran the once strategic supply depot of Hansa Bay, capturing

Farmers Increase Little Pig Crop

Harrisburg, June 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers kept an estimated 570,000 little pigs as potential pork producers from spring litters and the agriculture department's Federal-state crop reporting service said to day this was only a five per cent drop from 1943 as against a national decline of 24 per cent.

Reporting shortage of feed was the principal reason for the cut in pig numbers, the agency forecast a more drastic cut in the number of fall-farrowed pigs. Only 80,000 sows will be bred between June 1 and December 1, farmers have indicated, against 115,000 last year.

SOVIET TROOPS DRAWING TRAP AROUND MINSK

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, June 29 (AP)—Soviet armies converging on Minsk drove within 37 miles of the White Russian capital today pushing the Germans swiftly back over the same road to Warsaw and Berlin which Napoleon followed in his disastrous retreat from Moscow.

Like a huge grasping hand, the Red Army reached for Minsk while artillery and bombers blasted a way for the ground forces.

The hand-like Soviet offensive was formed by units fanning out to the northeast of Minsk like fingers, while strong groups southeast of the city formed the thumb.

With the freeing of Mogilev the Russians for the first time in nearly three years have a direct rail route between Leningrad and Odessa.

Route Important

A Russian military commentator, Col. Nikolai Akimov, said the re-opening of this rail route "is a factor which should not be under-estimated, for the advantage it affords in transferring forces parallel to the line of the front is one of the major conditions for achieving supremacy in any direction chosen for new blows."

The Russians have had four-fifths of the railway in working order since the winter, but have been unable to use the section passing through Vitebsk, Orsha, Mogilev and Zhlobin.

Field dispatches said the Germans had retreated from this area so quickly they had little time to damage the rail line.

The three main thrusts at Minsk were: Down the old Smolensk-Warsaw road; over the Bykhov-Minsk highway between the middle of the Berezina river; up through the valley of the Ptitza river over the Gomel-Minsk railway and highway.

Threaten From North

Red Army troops on the Smolensk road reached the upper Berezina north of Borisov, near the actual place where Napoleon, with his staggering remnants, made a crossing at the village of Studenky. Here advance units were 37 miles northeast of Minsk and Borisov appeared as good as gone.

On the Bykhov-Minsk highway Red Army units approached the middle Berezina area through rolling woodlands. In the valley of the Ptitza the Russians northwest of Ospovichi were 55 miles from Minsk.

Two large scale outflanking movements were part of the Soviet grand strategy aimed at the fall of Minsk.

Two Flanking Drives

Number one is a swift sweep of Gen. Ivan Bagramian's First Baltic Army through the Lepel lake country. Here advance units were approaching Polotsk and were within 30 miles of the Polotsk-Minsk railway, cutting of which would isolate Minsk from the north and cut off Polotsk from the south.

The second outflanking movement is by Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky's First White Russian Army, moving down the Bobruisk-Brest-Litovsk highway west of captured Staryi Dorogli. This road skirts the Minsk marshes and leads to positions from which the Minsk-Warsaw railway could be cut from south of Minsk.

Fairfield

Fairfield—Mrs. Carrie Musselman and daughter, Marian, have returned home after visiting Miss Marie Jones, Altoona.

Miss Helen Myers, Philadelphia, spent the week-end with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. John Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beard entertained members of the Zion Lutheran church choir Friday evening.

Mrs. J. Warren Martin entertained the Bridge club Tuesday evening. Prizes for high scores were won by Mrs. Clarence Wilson and Miss Ethel Grace Allison.

The 4-H Sewing club will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Catherine and Elizabeth Cool.

Miss Nancy Shulley, Reading, is visiting at the home of Miss Martha and Miss Flora Witherow.

Mrs. Loretta MacDonnell has gone to California State Teachers' college, western Pennsylvania, where she will remain for the summer session.

The following attended the Wednesday sessions of the Harrisburg diocesan convention of the NCCW held in York: the Rev. Joseph G. Gotwalt, Mrs. Mary Gotwalt, Mrs. Jacob Althoff, Mrs. Francis Weikert, Mrs. Edward Slagle, Mrs. S. L. Allison, Mary Wilson, Catherine Cool, Barbara Johnson, Elizabeth Cool, James Weikert and Gene Pecher.

Mrs. Joseph Bowling and daughters, Bonnie and Joanne, Mrs. Lynn Kade and daughter, Lynne Jean, spent the week-end with relatives in Waynesboro.

Miss Barbara Henderson is spending the week with relatives in Delaware.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Ella Glenn were Mrs. Glenn Snyder, Mrs. Wayne Sheffer and son and Stanley Sheffer, all of Manchester.

A coffee percolator is as essential as a typewriter in many business offices, since the beverage is served several times a day.

Postpone Auction Of Bat Until Sunday

Pittsburgh, June 29 (AP)—An old pitted and battered baseball bat, once the war club of Honus Wagner, the Pirates' "Flying Dutchman" of 30 and 40 years ago, will be auctioned off Sunday at the Pittsburgh-Boston doubleheader at Forbes Field.

The auction originally was scheduled for last night's war relief benefit game but was postponed when the donor, Timothy Kalagher of Greenville, Pa., was unable to be present.

Kalagher got the prized possession after Wagner cracked it during an exhibition game at Sharon. Kalagher was then a bat boy. He passed it on to his son, Timothy Jr.

Young Timothy was killed during the invasion of Normandy. His parents received word of his death Sunday—the youth's 20th birthday—and his mother is still suffering from shock. That is why the Kalaghers were unable to be present for the scheduled auction last night.

Wellsville Wins

5 To 4 Decision

Buffalo, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—The Wellsville Yankees, nearly blowing a five run lead in the eighth frame, just lasted to take a 5-4 decision from Hornell in a Pony league game last night.

The Pirates pounced on Lefty Bob Pirrelli, Wellsville hurler, for two singles and a double and took advantage of two errors to score four unearned runs in the almost disastrous eighth.

Lockport pushed two runs across in the tenth to defeat Batavia 8-6.

The victory placed the Cubs on top of the Pony league heap. Both clubs used three hurlers in an effort to squelch sluggers who piled up a total of 27 hits.

In a twin bill, Bradford was squashed deeper into the cellar as Olean squeezed into sixth place with the 3-1, 7-6 victories. The nightcap went ten innings.

M'SPADEN TOPS MIXED 4-SOME IN GOLF MATCH

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—Golf's blue plate special—a team affair with more combinations than a slot machine—continued today at the Edgewater playground, where club members still were agog over the 29 Jug McSpaden carved from the first nine.

A carnival atmosphere prevailed—even to the extent of using hand-talkies to broadcast scores back to the club house from out on the course—as mixed foursomes of pros, amateurs, women and seniors teed off on the final lap of their team tournament. The meet will become less involved tomorrow when a hand picked field begins a 72-hole grind for the Chicago Victory National championship.

Meanwhile, there are pro-amateur, pro-woman and pro-senior titles to be awarded. McSpaden, who leads the money circuit with purses of $15,100 after dominating the winter tour, traveled around the compact Edgewater layout in 29-35-64 yesterday, equaling the course record. Par is 35-71, and 18 pros and two amateurs matched or bettered those figures in the limbering up exercises for the main tournament.

No one could remember—including Ed Dudley, president of the PGA—an other player's shooting as low as a 29 for nine holes in major competition.

In the meantime, his partners also were coming through. Dorothy Germain posted a 77, the best score among the women, while Amateur Don Armstrong of Aurora, Illinois, and Senior Arnold Minkley of Chicago fashioned 75's. The combination of scores gave McSpaden, Germain and McSpaden-Minkley the pro-woman and pro-senior lead.

The pro-amateur lead was held by the 1943 winning team, Sam Byrd, who had a 70, and Bob Cochran of St. Louis, who led the Simon Purées with a 68—a 138 total. McSpaden and Armstrong were second with 139.

WINS SECOND IN TWO DAYS

(By The Associated Press)

Fred Clemence of the Albany mound staff was credited last night with his second Eastern league victory in two days.

Clemence stepped in as relief hurler against Utica, after having worked against Binghamton the night before, and the Senators emerged with a 10-5 victory.

Hartford's Laurels retained their three-game hold on first place by defeating Binghamton, 6-4. Elmira downed Scranton, 6-4, and Williamsport topped Wilkes-Barre, 5-3.

The Laurels crossed up the Binghamton Triplets to break a 3-3 deadlock. With the bases full and two out in the sixth, Manager Del Bissonette of the league leaders called for a bunt. A bad throw to the plate let one run in. Two more followed immediately after on a hit.

Outfit 11-6, Elmira's Pioneers bunched five of their runs in the third on a single bingle. Ernie Bickhaus was credited with the victory.

Dan Parra, Cuban southpaw, hurled his seventh victory as Williamsport turned back the Barons.

KNOWLES LEADING SENIOR GOLF MEET

Rye, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—Ellis Knowles, who is likely to become the first three-time winner of the United States seniors golf championship, contends that he is a better golfer now than when he was inter-collegiate champion and quarter-finalist in the National amateur tourney in 1907. The 57-year-old Knowles shot 71-74-145 to lead the first division of seniors over the Apawamis course. He pointed out that in 1906, a 77 was a good enough score to win the inter-collegiate qualifying medal. The second division of seniors will play today and tomorrow but none is expected to threaten Knowles' lead.

Haegg Defeated By Arne Anderson

Stockholm, June 29 (AP)—Arne Andersson, who smashed a lot of Gunders Haegg's world records while Haegg was in America last summer, now can boast his first victory over his famous countryman. They met for the first time in two years yesterday and Andersson won a 1,500 meter duel in 3:48.8, nearly four seconds slower than his own world mark. Haegg's time was 3:50.2. Andersson indicated that Muggy weather had prevented breaking his record of 3:45.

The Pirates pounced on Lefty Bob Pirrelli, Wellsville hurler, for two singles and a double and took advantage of two errors to score four unearned runs in the almost disastrous eighth.

Lockport pushed two runs across in the tenth to defeat Batavia 8-6.

The victory placed the Cubs on top of the Pony league heap. Both clubs used three hurlers in an effort to squelch sluggers who piled up a total of 27 hits.

Just Folks
DELAYED

A tank or two had saved the day:
But one or two guns more
And the extra plane we had begged, in vain,
Had meant a different score.

The foe came in at the dawn of day:
We had men, and courage enough,
But the ship was late with its precious freight
And we hadn't the needed stuff.

We had asked for powder and guns and tanks.
But promises, only came—
And we couldn't use those! So our death list grows.

With many a brave boy's name,
Now, wars are fought with guns and planes
And things which at home are made;
And it's bitter fate, when the need's so great.

NAZIS SHORTEN LINES BEFORE ADVANCING REDS

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie.)

The speed of the Red advance through White Russia, with the capture of Minsk apparently only a few days away, supports previous reports that Hitler has withdrawn his major forces to shorter lines back in old Poland—possibly along the Bug river.

Points like Orsha and Mogilev don't fall overnight when the Germans really try to hold them, even before such great power as the Russians are displaying. The Berlin radio, broadcasting about an elastic defense in the east, without benefit of reserves until the Allies have been taken care of in the west, also supports the thought. If that were true, no such broadcast would have been made.

For a year there have been reports from various sources that the Germans were preparing to stand at the Bug, the "Ribbentrop" border established in 1939, and that if driven back from there a last ditch fight would be made along the Vistula.

Delays Likely
This would not mean, of course, an uninterrupted Russian march over the 300 miles from their present central positions, or the 100 miles from their westernmost salient at Kovel, to Brest Litovsk. Large German armies already have been beaten or trapped in the present drive. They are not all gone. Delay will be attempted at every strong point, principally at Minsk, Baranowice, Bielsk and Brest Litovsk, and there probably will be a tremendous battle for Lwow when the fighting is extended southward.

But, as in Italy, the Germans probably are down to the point where little effort will be made to save territory which obviously cannot be held for long.

End Draws Near
The comparative nearness of the war's end must be as obvious to Hitler as to anyone. If he is to keep going in the hope of some "break" he must gather his weakened forces into a more compact area. The power behind the Russian offensive, the growing Allied strength on the shore of France, pressure from the south with every sign that it will be extended. Allied air superiority all have dictated his only course.

From Washington came the promise of impending blows at Japan itself. Secretary of Navy James Forrestal said at a press conference:

"The final occupation of Saipan will enable us to project surface and air operations that will include the mainland of Japan, the Philippines and a greater part of the Dutch East Indies."

One Pacific fleet task force ventured amongst the Kurile islands to shell Kurabu Zaki, main air base on southern Paramushiru.

Another gave Tinian island, next door to Saipan in the Marianas, its daily working-over.

Bomb Guam, Rota
Carrier planes swept Guam and Rota, south of Tinian. Land-based Army bombers struck at Paramushiru and Shumshu in the Kuriles, and at Yap and Truk in the distant Carolines.

Japanese hurled torpedo planes and bombers against Allied carriers and transports near the Marianas. The attacks were unsuccessful.

American marines and infantrymen, already possessing the southern half of Saipan, occupied two villages in a two-mile push up the east coast. On the west coast they blasted the Japanese street by street, block by block, from Garapan, Saipan's largest town.

An estimated 20,000 Nipponese defenders were pushed into Saipan's northern peninsula in an area two miles wide and seven to nine miles long.

Rembert James, Associated Press correspondent, in a dispatch from Saipan reported that all resistance in the south had ceased.

The stoppage was unauthorized.

GRUNDY DEFENDS

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—Former U. S. Senator Joseph P. Grundy of Pennsylvania defends the "protective tariff" plank in the 1944 Republican platform.

The 81-year-old chairman of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, a member of the resolutions committee which drafted the GOP platform, said America in its post-war relations with other nations must have some practical measuring stick to safeguard labor and industry against low cost foreign trade.

We hear much of free trade and international cooperation and, while certain aspects of this are to be accepted in line with civilization's desire to live together in harmony and peace, we cannot subscribe hook, line and sinker to any world league or open door trade scheme," he said.

An Evening Thought

Be cautious with whom you associate,

and never give your company your confidence to those of whose good principles you are not sure.

—Coleridge

Just Folks

DELAYED

tank or two had saved the day!

But one or two guns more and the extra plane we had begged, in vain,

Had meant a different score.

The foe came in at the dawn of day.

We had men, and courage

enough,

but the ship was late with its precious freight

And we hadn't the needed stuff.

We had asked for powder and guns and tanks,

But promises, only, came—

And we couldn't use those! So our death list grows

With many a brave boy's name.

Now, wars are fought with guns and planes

And things which at home are made;

And it's bitter fate, when the need's so great.

To be even one hour delayed!

Today's Talk*SELF-COMPANIONSHIP

There is in the minds of so many —both men and women—the desire to know many and to be known by many. So much so that there is left little time in which to get self-acquainted.

Seneca wrote: "Death falls heavily on that man who, too well known to all men, dies unacquainted with himself."

It always awakens us with a start to have someone tell us something about ourselves that strikes us as news. It often takes a long time for us to really realize that we are our best companion! What other people know about us is usually quite the opposite of what we actually are. When we come to take ourselves apart, or to self-analyze,

we come face to face with the bare truth—and it's not always what we would have bandied about.

In an entire lifetime we are lucky to count our genuine friends

by the fingers of one hand. Indeed, to have but one, clear to the end, is to have a break of fortune.

In solitude a man fears more about himself than in any other way. He can self-examine himself honestly and justly, thus preparing himself the better for public examination. It was this early self-examining that made him the wise and understanding man that he became.

It is only when you know a great deal about yourself that you can handle the appraisement of others,

the less lonely you are apt to get,

and the better companion you become to yourself. When difficulties arise, that others would not understand, nor would they be inclined to interfere if they did.

After all is said and done, you remain your own best friend and companion. No one ever can know you as you know yourself—if you give proper time to this important job.

Self-knowledge is the key to self-companionship. The better you know yourself—on good terms—the better are you sure to be a companion to others.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "For to Live."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Start Building of Nurses' Home:

Ground will be broken Monday for the erection of the Nurses' home at the Annie M. Warner hospital, it is announced by the directors.

The architect, Robert Stair, of York, will supervise the construction of the building. Luther Sachs is the contractor.

Leroy Winebrenner Married at Hanover: Leroy Winebrenner, Baltimore street, was married in Hanover Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock to Miss Gertrude Plowman, of Hanover.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents and was performed by the Rev. Dr. George W. Nicely, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church. Miss Bertha Wentz attended the bride, while Keith Berger, Gettysburg, was best man.

Mr. Winebrenner is employed at the state highway offices here.

Air Mail Service to Start July 1:

Announcement is made by Postmaster R. C. Miller that special air mail service will be inaugurated over the country, effective July 1, between New York and San Francisco. The schedule requires 34 hours and 45 minutes on the westward journey and 32 hours and five minutes on the trip east from San Francisco.

Delays Likely

This would not mean, of course, an uninterrupted Russian march over the 300 miles from their present central positions, or the 100 miles from their westernmost salient at Kowel, to Brest Litovsk. Large German armies already have been beaten or trapped in the present drive. They are not all gone. Delay will be attempted at every strong point, principally at Minsk, Baranowice, Bielskopol and Brest Litovsk, and there probably will be a tremendous battle for Lwow when the fighting is extended southward.

But, as in Italy, the Germans probably are down to the point where little effort will be made to save territory which obviously cannot be held for long.

NAZIS SHORTEN LINES BEFORE ADVANCING REDS

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)

The speed of the Red advance through White Russia, with the capture of Minsk apparently only a few days away, supports previous reports that Hitler has withdrawn his major forces to shorter lines back in old Poland—possibly along the Bug river.

Points like Orsha and Mogilev don't fall overnight when the Germans really try to hold them, even before such great power as the Russians are displaying. The Berlin radio, broadcasting about an elastic defense in the east, without benefit of reserves until the Allies have been taken care of in the west, also supports the thought. If that were true, no such broadcast would have been made.

For a year there have been reports from various sources that the Germans were preparing to stand at the Bug, the "Ribbentrop" border established in 1939, and that if driven back from there a last ditch fight would be made along the Visula.

There is now in progress the 5th War Loan Drive to raise money so as to insure that this conflict will be brought to the speediest possible conclusion and with the

Success of 5th War Loan Will Meet Acclaim of Men in Field and Prove Nation Is Backing Our Armed Forces

By Gen. Ike Eisenhower

"In moments of crisis involving the safety of our native land, the American people have invariably rallied against the danger with courage, faith and resolution.

"For the past two years we have been in one of these crises, perhaps the greatest in our history. On the battlefield and on the home front men and women are daily making great sacrifices so the freedom in our way of life may be preserved.

"There is now in progress the 5th War Loan Drive to raise money so as to insure that this conflict will be brought to the speediest possible conclusion and with the least loss in lives. The complete success in the drive will meet the acclaim of the forces in the field and will be renewed proof that all Americans are one solid phalanx of determination in this great war.

"All of us profoundly trust that soon the world may be restored to a just peace. Until we can, with God's help, bring about that happy realization of our dreams, each of us must seek incessantly for ways and means by which the value of our services to our country may be enhanced. Right now we can do so by buying bonds. Let's make this particular victory a quick and decisive one."

ing the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Heyser.

Fred and Richard Fidler have returned to their home in Silver Spring, Maryland, after having spent a week at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Katie Fidler. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fidler, visited here during the week-end.

Mrs. George Dutters and daughter, Miss Mary Guldens, and Mrs. W. L. Plank and daughter, Miss Alice, and Mrs. C. E. Tawney, Gettysburg, were visitors in Newport Sunday.

REPEATER

Oklahoma City (AP)—An elderly man called at the Oklahoma county election board offices, asked Mrs. Ollie B. Roberts, stenographer, a question concerning registration and then told her:

"I voted for William Howard Taft and haven't voted since, but I didn't want to miss this election."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood. To keep your kidneys healthy get exercise and do work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidney filter. Don't let this condition go on, it is valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it also keeps you awake at night. It causes pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Dewey Is Enthusiastically Acclaimed As He Accepts Republican Nomination

ISSUES APPEAL TO ALL TO END "ONE MAN RULE"

By GARDNER BRIDGE

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—With the methodical precision of a trial lawyer, Thomas E. Dewey tackled his biggest case today.

Wildly cheered by a perspiring but happy convention crowd, Dewey accepted the Republican Presidential nomination last night with an appeal to voters "of every party" to help him "bring an end to one-man government in America."

Today's first order of business for Dewey after his quick flight from Albany and a post-convention reception that lasted into the small hours, was a series of conferences with every member of the party's national committee. A forenoon press conference also was scheduled.

The candidate plans to remain here three or four days, mapping campaign strategy with Republican leaders who long ago predicted his best ballot nomination.

Plan Unified Drive

As the footweary convention crowds headed homeward, all signs pointed toward evolution of a highly organized and unified drive between now and November.

What dissension there was appeared to melt away like a snowball under the hot Chicago sun when Gov. John E. Bricker of Ohio agreed to become Dewey's running mate, instead of his chief contender for top honors, and accepted the Vice Presidential nomination.

The two clasped hands on the convention stadium platform and exchanged remarks of mutual admiration and confidence in victory.

Typical of the resulting jubilant comments was that of Senator Clyde Reed of Kansas, who said:

"We've got not only a march for Roosevelt but a master on the platform to carry the fight to him on his own front."

Youth against age was the predominant theme of Dewey's acceptance speech as he set out to follow Franklin D. Roosevelt's trail from the executive mansion in Albany to the White House via the Chicago nominating conventions. Mr. Roosevelt, too, flew to this city to accept the high honor in 1932.

Pledges Able Cabinet.

The 42-year-old former racket-buster, in his opening statement to the American electoral jury last night, promised "Next year our government will again have a cabinet of the ablest men and women to be found in America."

"Its members," he declared, "will expect and will receive full delegation of the powers of their office. They will be capable of administering those powers. They will each be experienced in the task to be done and young enough to do it."

The task of achieving a lasting peace, he declared, "is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarreling some in office."

"It seems," he declared, "that the great men who founded this nation really knew what they were talking about when they said that three terms were too many."

Cites Foreign Policy

A middle course between international aloofness and full membership in any world state was advocated by the shaggy-browed 1944 standard bearer on the touchy foreign policy issue.

"We are agreed, all of us," he said, "that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a cooperative effort to prevent future wars."

"There are only a very few," he added, "who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a super-state."

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, chairman of the platform committee, told reporters: "He stands on the platform 100 per cent."

Wendell L. Willkie, who came from behind to beat Dewey for the nomination in 1940 and who recently criticized the foreign policy plank as "ambiguous," congratulated Dewey and said he has "one of the great opportunities of history."

First Win The War

As his petite blonde wife looked on intently, Dewey, first Republican to win the New York governorship in 20 years, made these other points:

1. The first and foremost job is to win the war, and to defeat "once and for all" the German and Japanese will to make war.

2. The present military high command is "doing a superb job" and should be allowed to continue without any civilian interference.

3. The administration now is beset by internal squabbles and feuds—"wrangling, bungling and confusion." In seven pre-war years of unequalled power and unparalleled spending, the New Deal failed utterly to solve the fundamental problem of providing jobs and opportunity. It has lived in "chat-

THRONGS WAIT PATIENTLY TO SEE NOMINEES

By JAMES MARLOW

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—Did you ever wonder why people stand in line for hours to shake the hand of a presidential candidate? So did we.

When the Republican convention ended, nominees Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker went to a hotel ballroom with their wives.

All four stood in line. The crowd flowed in — hundreds of people thousands.

They drank the punch and ate cookies, hung over the balconies to see a little better, and formed into a six abreast line winding around the huge room.

The Deweys and the Brickers, smiling and nodding and exchanging greetings with all comers, had a marathon handshake. If their hands are not big as suit cases today, it's a wonder.

But men and women, as they came away, seemed pleased with themselves. Yet they had taken punishment, too.

It took a lot of standing just for a close-up look, a moment's personal attention from these famous people, and a chance to say "congratulations" or "I'm with you" or "howdeedo?"

Varied Views

Well, why do they do it and what do they think?

Wearing suspenders but no coat, the Rev. M. J. Deam of Chicago, expressing fear of abundance, "specializing in curtailment and restriction."

"This must be a land where every man and woman has a fair chance to work and get ahead."

We Republicans are agreed that full employment shall be a first objective of national policy."

"There are only a very few," he added, "who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a super-state."

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, chairman of the platform committee, told reporters: "He stands on the platform 100 per cent."

Wendell L. Willkie, who came from behind to beat Dewey for the nomination in 1940 and who recently criticized the foreign policy plank as "ambiguous," congratulated Dewey and said he has "one of the great opportunities of history."

"We are agreed, all of us," he said, "that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a cooperative effort to prevent future wars."

"There are only a very few," he added, "who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her Allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a super-state."

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, chairman of the platform committee, told reporters: "He stands on the platform 100 per cent."

Wendell L. Willkie, who came from behind to beat Dewey in the nomination in 1940 and who recently criticized the foreign policy plank as "ambiguous," congratulated Dewey and said he has "one of the greatest opportunities of history."

First Win The War

As his petite brunette wife looked on intently, Dewey, first Republican to win the New York governorship in 20 years, made these other points:

1. The first and foremost job is to win the war, and to defeat "once and for all" the German and Japanese will to make war.

2. The present military high command is "doing a superb job" and should be allowed to continue without any civilian interference.

3. The administration now is beset by internal squabbles and feuds—"wrangling, bungling and confusion." In seven pre-war years of unequalled power and unparalleled spending, the New Deal failed utterly to solve the fundamental problem of providing jobs and opportunity. It has lived in "chat-

THRONGS WAIT PATIENTLY TO SEE NOMINEES

By JAMES MARLOW

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—Did you ever wonder why people stand in line for hours to shake the hand of a presidential candidate? So did we.

When the Republican convention ended, nominees Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker went to a hotel ballroom with their wives.

All four stood in line. The crowd flowed in — hundreds of people thousands.

They drank the punch and ate cookies, hung over the balconies to see a little better, and formed into a six-abreast line winding around the huge room.

The Deweys and the Brickers, smiling and nodding and exchanging greetings with all comers, had a marathon handshake. If their hands are not big as suit cases today, it's a wonder.

But men and women, as they came away, seemed pleased with themselves. Yet they had taken punishment, too.

It took a lot of standing just for a close-up look-see, a moment's personal attention from these famous people, and a chance to say "congratulations" or "I'm with you" or "howdeido?"

THOMAS DEWEY
ADMIRER'S WIFE'S
"HORSE SENSE"

By NORRIS PAXTON

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—He's the father of two young sons, likes to visit with neighbors, admires his wife's "good horse sense," is an inveterate golfer, is an Episcopalian but doesn't always attend Sunday service, and has realized an ambition to "own a little farm," and he's the candidate of the Republican party for President of the United States.

Thomas E. Dewey, at 42, Governor of New York, got that way by heeding advice such as any college football coach might give. He has "kept his eye on the ball."

Like many other successful young executives in other lines of "work," Dewey mixed a little luck with lots of effort and perseverance to become a political headliner.

Recently discussing his first low nineties score on the golf links, he concluded:

"I went right back the next day and shot the best score I ever had."

Laughs At Lickings

He lost an effort to become New York's governor in 1938, being defeated by Herbert H. Lehman, now director of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA). He rectified that with a smashing victory in 1942 which broke a 20-year succession of Democratic governors.

In 1940 he reached for the Presidential nomination; saw it slip away to Wendell L. Willkie. He adopted new tactics.

Yesterday's Republican national convention wrote the different result in capital letters.

It was no surprise to those who know Tom Dewey well. He thrives on adversity, and laughs at the "lickings" he has taken.

Nothing is too small or unimportant for his attention. Currently he and Mrs. Dewey are concerned about whether their elder son, Tommy, is enrolled in the proper school.

The subject arose while Dewey was enroute here yesterday by chartered airplane to accept the Republican nomination.

Dewey laid aside a copy of his acceptance speech, which he was considering revising, and joined Mrs. Dewey in pondering the relative merits of Albany schools.

Set Ceiling Price
On Alfalfa Hay

To curb mounting prices of alfalfa hay and to prevent resultant price rises of such essential commodities as livestock products, the OPA today announced nation-wide alfalfa hay maximum prices.

Previous maximums for the hay covered only eight western states and part of Texas. The new maximums are effective July 3, 1944.

While the new ceilings average $1.25 per ton higher than the basic maximum prices now in effect in the west, they are much lower than prices now being charged in many states not under price control.

The new prices place definite dollars-and-cents ceilings on alfalfa hay at all levels from the grower through the retail dealer. They run from a low of $1.19 per ton to a high of $2.60 per ton and average a return to the grower equal to the parity level of $2.10 per ton.

Subject to Draft

He would not take himself out of the picture unequivocally, however—he would be subject to a "draft."

Here is the way he reasoned it: There were forces for Dewey of New York. There were others for Bricker of Ohio. There was stretch and strain otherwise in the party.

Warren envisaged himself at the time as the man who could weld all factions but only if he kept his

In this war—the costliest, cruellest war of all time—our boys must fight with savage fury. Kill or be killed! And on how well each plays his part depends the lives of many of his buddies.

Here on the home front, too, just cheering the attack on isn't enough.

That's why there's a Fifth War Bond drive on now, a drive in which you're needed to support the men on the fighting fronts who are facing the most treacherous forces Americans have ever met in combat. We on the home front can't let them down—and we won't. So resolve now to at least double your bond buying in the 5th War Loan drive. This is the time to do better than your best.

DEWEY'S WIFE ALL AGLOW AS HUBBY SPEAKS

By EDITH GAYLORD

Chicago, June 29 (AP)—Her brown eyes aglow, petite and pretty Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey stood with her husband on the brightly-lighted platform while he received thunderous ovations last night.

Then, as is her custom, the wife of New York's governor went to sit quietly to one side and watch and listen to her husband with unfaltering attention. Her smile turned above the white orchids plumed to her sheer black rock. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls.

This was a far greater show than the Texas-born Frances Eileen Hull of Sapulpa, Okla., ever dreamed of when, as a chorus girl and music student in New York city, she met and married young Tom Dewey, voice student and struggling lawyer from Owosso, Mich.

Ponder Able Women

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hart, joined their son-in-law's mother, Mrs. George M. Dewey, at Chicago's bustling-new stadium to witness Dewey's acceptance of the presidential nomination.

In his speech he promised that he would include the "able men and women" in his cabinet if elected. This opened the question of which leading women in the GOP might measure up to Dewey's other specifications—experience in the task to be done and young enough to do it.

Rep. Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut, who addressed the convention Tuesday night, was spoken of, although her political experience is limited to 18 months in Congress.

Another possible Dewey choice might be Mary Donlon, whom he appointed chairman of the state industrial board and who has served this convention as vice chairman of the platform committee.

Claims Delinquency Being Overplayed

Tyrone, Pa., June 29 (AP)—Dr. Henry F. Wend, of Buffalo, New York, told delegates to the 13th annual convention of the eastern district of the American Lutheran church here yesterday that the juvenile delinquency problem has been "oversized and overplayed."

The best government statistics show the number of delinquency cases has increased by only 17 percent during the past few years, he said.

Dr. Wend, superintendent of Social Missions in Buffalo, New York, declared he regarded this as "remarkably low considering the vast economic and social upheavals caused by the war."

"RADIO HEAT" TO PATCH TIRES

Philadelphia, June 29 (AP)—A revolutionary new method of repairing tires, vulcanizing them by "radio heat," was reported today to the national transportation and maintenance meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Lt. Col. C. W. Vogt, chief of the technical staff for supply, Army Transportation Corps, said the new technique was developed in response to requests from supply officers overseas for a mobile repair unit which could be used nearer the frontlines than other vulcanizing equipment.

Colonel Vogt, who developed the process last year in addition to his Army duties, said tire repairs have been made in 10 minutes with the new equipment which would have taken two hours or more with the steam or electrical resistance now in general use.

In addition, one of the new units would occupy no more than a dozen square feet of floor space and would weigh around 500 pounds, compared with standard equipment measured with standard equipment measured by the truckload and weighed in tons.

Radio frequency electrostatic energy, Colonel Vogt said, is unique in that it treats all portions of a tire patch simultaneously and at the same rate, while the heating action begins instantly at the snap of a switch.

FOUR GERMAN PLANE PLANTS ARE LAMBASTED

London, June 29 (AP)—Upwards of 1,000 Fortresses and Liberators attacked Germany today, hitting four aircraft producing centers, a synthetic oil refinery and a number of other military and industrial targets in the center of the Reich.

Escorted by an equal number of fighters the heavies attacked aircraft plants at Leipzig, Oschersleben, Aschersleben and Fallersleben and a refinery at Bonn, tapping a 12-hour allied air offensive which saw more than 3,000 warplanes scouring important Nazi installations across the face of northwestern Europe.

Leipzig, Oschersleben and Aschersleben are within 90 to 160 miles southwest of Berlin while Fallersleben is 40 miles east of Hannover. Bonn is also in the Hesse area.

Bomb Raid Centers. Railhead centers naturally feeding reinforcements to the Germans' taxed battalions were other targets in the big assault.

In addition to the American leaves kept out, some 500 RAF Halifaxes earned the campaign against Nazi supply lines to the German border bombing railroad yards in the region of Metz near the World War battlefield of Verdun.

Simultaneously, night raiding Mosquitos and Stirlitzers, a railroad center attacked by the American heavies yesterday, and an oil plant near Essen in the Ruhr.

The Mosquitos made their attack without loss, while the British heavy-bomber assault on Metz cost 20 planes.

The Berlin radio said allied bombers had penetrated to Thuringia, an eastern German province bordering on Czechoslovakia, and declared fierce air battles were raging there.

Stiff Nazi Opposition. Several hundred heavy bombers carried out the night attacks, knifing their way through stiff German opposition. Metz is 30 miles from the border near the World War battle field of Verdun. The night raiders also hit Blainville nearby and other objectives around Nancy 30 miles south of Metz.

Mediterranean Allied air force bombers attacked objectives at the Romanian Danube river port of Giurgiu last night after some 500 heavy bombers plus fighter escorts from that theater yesterday smashed two oil refineries at Bucharest and a German airbase at Karlovo, Bulgaria.

Approximately 1,200 sorties individual plane flights, were flown by the Mediterranean allied air force. Twenty-three enemy aircraft were destroyed and six allied planes were missing.

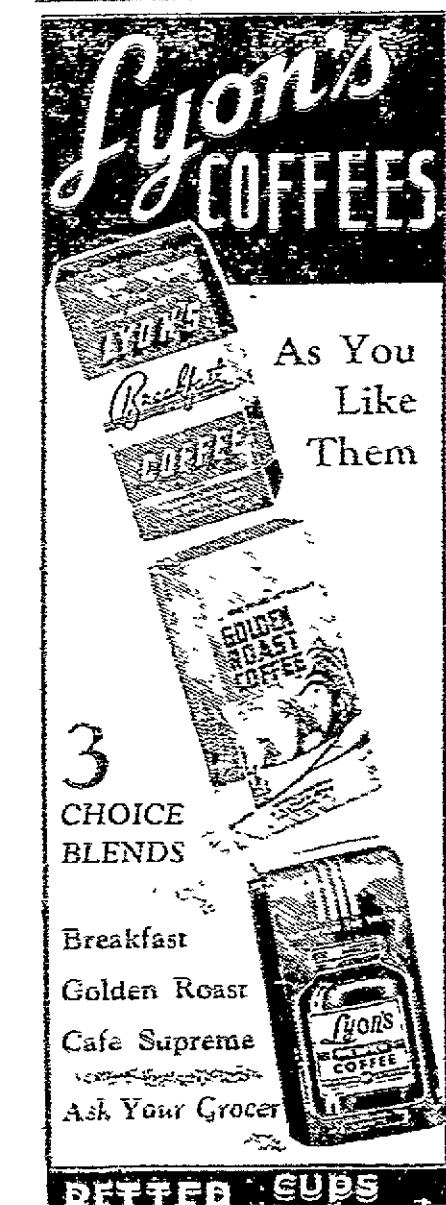

Churchmen Conclude Sessions At York

York, Pa., June 29 (AP)—The general synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church was on record today in favor of the Fair Employment Practices committee, increased participation by negroes in church activity and repeal of the Asiatic Exclusion act.

A resolution to give unqualified recognition to "the right of labor to collective bargaining" was voted down, however, as the synod concluded its sessions here.

Also rejected was a resolution to commend the Christian businessman who is practicing his faith in his relations with labor.

Declaring that the church "must take initiative" to curb "this problem of alcohol" the more than 600 delegates from 40 states and Canada condemned advertising "to make drinking appear respectable."

Murder at CANDLEWOOD

by Jane Bunker Lumley

Chapter 24

Dirk asked grimly: "Moura, that night we followed you to the Cove. Guard ship off shore I think Gil and you escaped back to the house underground. Did you know about Josh's body in the tunnel?"

Moura's lips were stiff. "Yes," she said. "I did. And I reasoned that Gil hadn't had an opportunity to dispose of his body. And that night I thought you were Gil." I had discovered the tunnel from the Cove to the shop and what was hidden there, a few days before that I found traces on the shop end of the tunnel where the door had been changed to swing into the tunnel instead of into the shop. Gil had used the tunnel for secret trips to the Cove to deliver information to spies posing as fishermen, before he hit on the more direct method of shipping information in the candles."

"Why," Spring asked, frowning over all the questions pushing into her mind, "did you walk at night? Were you afraid of Gil, Aunt Drusilla?" "I was afraid for the others in the house," Drusilla answered, her blue eyes bleak. "I tried to keep watch on Gil. I knew he was leaving the house at night, but I couldn't find how I didn't know about the tunnel."

"Did you see Jo?" Spring faltered helplessly. Drusilla paled. "I was in the front parlor when it happened. I heard you go through the hall after I couldn't talk."

Spring was agast. "You thought I did it!" Drusilla shook her head weakly. "No, Spring, not. But Gil knew you were downstairs, I don't know where he saw you, but he did. He had the perfect hold he wanted on me after that. One word from him and police would have held you."

Spring trembled with a sudden recollection of horror. "Oh! Then why? She had the inspiration to look in the dictionary and found that a beaver beside being an animal is the part of the headgear of one on the stairs! I had been down to the Cove to contact the Coast, call a visor!

Spring remembered the gray heap on the couch and her throat ached suddenly. "Aunt Adelaide went in there."

Dirk nodded. "Gil stepped out carelessly, and Adelaide saw him. He killed her and then pushed the chair back into her room. Then he signaled for Thurston to ring the bell after Gil had time to escape up the back stairs to his room. But he made a bad mistake. While it was possible for Mrs. Manning to reach the bell cord from the wheelchair, it wasn't possible for her to have sat where she did and drop the dictionary fifteen feet at the other end of the room, on the floor beneath the hurricane lamp. And the dictionary had the page turned ed into one terrible week."

"What," Justen spoke now, "did Jo mean by those three words she tried to tell us, 'the beaver moved'?"

Dark looked at Moura. She said: "I knew. But my own information was limited with the other serious problem concerning many more lives, the leakage of shipping and production and troop stationing news that Gil was sending Axis agents in England. You see, Jo had apparently wandered down into the back parlor that night, sleeplessness, or something. We all know she loved Elvian, that was what caused her antagonism toward Spring. In the dark, Gil didn't know anyone was in the back parlor, and the tunnel we used tonight from the back parlor to the shop, was the passage way Gil used in his night trips. He came through the entrance back the suit of armor."

"Because," Dirk said grimly, "he surprised Mrs. Manning in the very same way he did Jo. By a superhuman effort fostered by her determination to catch Jo's killer, she had propelled herself into her wheelchair and across the hall down into the back parlor tonight."

Spring gasped it all slowly. There was so much to comprehend. There, it was just a threat to was so evil and Drusilla that happened to strike smasher. So much of horror crowded into one terrible week.

Dirk nodded. "Gil stepped out carelessly, and Adelaide saw him. He killed her and then pushed the chair back into her room. Then he signaled for Thurston to ring the bell after Gil had time to escape up the back stairs to his room. But he made a bad mistake. "But," she asked, "how could Gil have known that Great Aunt Adele knew?"

FOUR GERMAN PLANE PLANTS ARE LAMBASTED

London, June 29 (AP)—Upwards of 1,000 Fortresses and Liberators attacked Germany today, hitting four aircraft producing centers, a synthetic oil refinery and a number of other military and industrial targets in the center of the Reich.

Escorted by an equal number of fighters, the heavies attacked aircraft plants at Leipzig, Oschersleben, Aschersleben and Fallersleben, and a refinery at Bohlsen, capping a 12-hour allied air offensive which saw more than 3,000 warplanes scouring important Nazi installations across the face of northwestern Europe.

Leipzig, Oschersleben and Aschersleben are within 90 to 100 miles southwest of Berlin, while Fallersleben is 40 miles east of Hannover. Bohlsen is also in the Hannover area.

Bomb Rail Centers

Railroad centers haltingly feeding reinforcements to the Germans' taxed battlefields were other targets in the big assault.

In darkness before the American heavies swept out, some 500 RAF Halifaxes carried the campaign against Nazi supply lines to the German border, bombing railroad yards in the region of Metz, near the World War battlefield of Verdun.

Simultaneously, night raiding Mosquitos hit Saarbrücken, a railroad center attacked by the Americans yesterday, and an oil plant near Essen in the Ruhr.

The Mosquitos made their attack without loss, while the British heavy-bomber assault on Metz cost 20 planes.

The Berlin radio said Allied bombers had penetrated to Thuringia, an eastern German province bordering on Czechoslovakia, and declared three air battles were raging there.

SURE Nazi Opposition

Several hundred heavy bombers carried out the night attacks, knifing their way through stiff German opposition. Metz is 30 miles from the border near the World War battle field of Verdun. The night raiders also hit Blainville nearby and other objectives around Nancy, 30 miles south of Metz.

Mediterranean Allied air force bombers attacked objectives at the Romanian Danube river port of Giurgiu last night after some 500 heavy bombers plus fighter escorts from that theater yesterday smashed two oil refineries at Bucharest and a German airdrome at Karlovo, Bulgaria.

Approximately 1,200 sorties (individual plane flights) were flown by the Mediterranean Allied air force. Twenty-three enemy aircraft were destroyed and six Allied planes were missing.

Churchmen Conclude Sessions At York

York, Pa., June 29 (AP)—The general synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church was on record today in favor of the Fair Employment Practices committee, increased participation by negroes in church activity and repeal of the Asiatic Exclusion act.

A resolution to give unqualified recognition to "the right of labor to collective bargaining" was voted down, however, as the synod concluded its sessions here.

Also rejected was a resolution to "commend the Christian businessman who is practicing his faith in his relations with labor."

Declaring that the church "must take initiative" to curb "this problem" of alcohol, the more than 400 delegates from 40 states and Canada condemned advertising "to make drinking appear respectable."

"Yes. I discovered that one day when Gil and Theron had gone into town. You know how the armor is set in that little niche in the east wall? Well, I discovered there was something odd about the way the armor was mounted and I found it wasn't really mounted against the wall itself, but that the section of the wall is hollow and opens into the suit of armor. The armor had been welded in such a fashion that the front section swung open, like a mummy case. All Gil had to do to see if the coast was clear each time was to move the beaver. And that night he saw Jo."

"The beaver!" Justen ejaculated. "That's what Jo said! What are you talking about?"

"That's what Mrs. Manning discovered tonight," Dirk said heavily. "She had the inspiration to look in the dictionary and found that a beaver, beside being an animal, is the part of the headgear of a suit of armor, the thing we would call a visor."

Spring remembered the gray heap on the couch and her throat ached suddenly. "Aunt Adelaide went in there!"

Dirk nodded. "Gil stepped out, carelessly, and Adelaide saw him. He killed her and then pushed the chair back into her room. Then he signaled for Theron to ring the bell after Gil had time to escape up the back stairs to his room. But he made a bad mistake. # INDEPENDENCE DAY 1944

Here, in the Immortal Words of our Fighting Forefathers, is

WHAT WE ARE FIGHTING FOR TODAY!

NO FINER STATEMENTS OF THE PRINCIPLES OF HUMAN FREEDOM EXIST, THAN THOSE WHICH FOLLOW. AS AN AMERICAN, READ THEM.

From the Declaration of Independence, adopted by the Continental Congress, in Philadelphia, on July 4, 1776.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

... And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

From the Constitution of the United States, adopted by a convention of States' delegates, in Philadelphia, on Sept. 17, 1787. These are the words of its Preamble:

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

From Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, delivered Nov. 19, 1863 on the field where the climactic battle of the Civil War had been fought on July 1-3 of that year.

"Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal . . .

It is for us the living . . . to be dedicated . . . to the unfinished work which they who fought . . . have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

PLAN TO BLOCK "INVASION" OF MEAN BEETLES

Harrisburg, June 29 (AP) — The Department of Agriculture started a "fence attack" on the Japanese beetles this week with plans to halt their invasion and eventually drive them out of Pennsylvania. Under the direction of Dr. Thomas L. Guyton of the Bureau of Plant Industry, traps were placed in the northwestern counties to test whether the insects have invaded the only section of the state still free of the pests.

3 Counties Open

The traps were baited with an aromatic oil that attracts but does not kill the beetles. Most of the traps were placed in yards and gardens of private residences with the permission of the owners.

To date the only quarantine-free areas in Pennsylvania are parts of Erie, Crawford, and Mercer counties. The heavily infested areas continue to be in that section south and east of Harrisburg.

Should the tests disclose that the beetles have remained out of the northwestern counties the department planned to concentrate all efforts on eradicating the pests from areas where quarantine regulations are now in effect.

FRESH "DATED" EGGS

Fresh "dated" eggs proved highly successful in their first test in this state and E. J. Lawless, Jr., head of the Bureau of Markets in the state Agriculture Department, now plans similar service on sweet corn, dressed poultry and various fruits and vegetables during the summer months.

A chain store organization that initiated the idea of "dated" eggs reported that sales increased 65 per cent in the first six months of the experiment. Prior to using "dated" eggs the stores sold slightly more than 318,000 dozen eggs, but the demand for the new product sent sales up to 525,545 dozen.

The plan used by the stores to produce "dated" eggs started with the farmers taking the eggs to cooperatives at Doylestown, Coatesville, and other points in Montgomery county. They are candled to see that each egg is absolutely fresh.

Then they are graded, packed in cartons, stamped with a date and shipped to the nearest city markets. The cartons are placed in self-service refrigerated display cases in the chain stores.

GET LIFETIME CERTIFICATE

The Pennsylvania Dairymen's association awarded a meritorious lifetime certificate to the Hershey farms, founded by Milton S. Hershey, for the accomplishment of six Holstein cows, four of which produced over 4,000 pounds of butterfat in a lifetime and the other two near the same poundage.

Two of the cows represented production for nine years, one eight years, and three over a seven-year period.

5 PLAYMATES, AGES 8 TO 15, ARE DROWNED

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 29 (AP) — "Mother told me," 12-year-old Bernadine Adzorko sobbed today, "not to play in the water."

Bernadine obeyed, and lived. But it fell to her to break the news that five playmates, whose mothers also had warned them against the Susquehanna's swift current, had drowned in 10 feet of water.

They were riding on a log near the river's west bank at Exeter, five miles north of here, late yesterday when two of them fell off. Then the log upset, throwing the others into the water.

Before she ran for help Bernadine saw one of the girls, Dolores Gadello, 15, only one who could swim, try to save the others, but Dolores too sank beneath the choppy surface.

Neighbors wouldn't believe, at first, Bernadine's excited story. But Paul Ripple, an expert swimmer, and two companions dived and found the bodies in a hole in the river bed.

ALL BODIES RECOVERED

Several thousand persons, relatives of the dead girls among them, lined both banks as the bodies, one by one, were brought to the surface.

Exeter physicians and firemen from five nearby communities tried artificial respiration without success.

Besides Dolores the victims were Verna Galli, 8; Geraldine Smith, 10; Therese Modleski, 13, and Takia Janiszewski, 10.

A few hours later Andrew Pacovsky, 15, of Edwardsdale, dived into a pond near the Luzerne anthracite colliery breaker and never came up. A search for the body continued early today.

The boy's death brought the Wyoming valley drowning toll to 16 in a week.

GONE BUT NOT, ETC.

Mirnah, Mont. (AP) — Heavy rainfall washed out the Mizpah bridge, but local residents are keeping track of it. They have notified downstream communities their bridge last was seen floating toward the Powder river and how was it getting along, please?

DEWEY HIGHLIGHTS

Chicago, June 29 (AP) — Highlights of the acceptance speech by Republican Presidential Nominee Thomas E. Dewey:

I come to this task a free man. I have made no pledges, promises or commitments, expressed or implied, to any man or woman.

This election will bring an end to one-man government in America.

I have not sought this responsibility . . . with the help of God, I shall try to be worthy of the trust.

The present national administration . . . in its young days did some good things. But now it has grown old in office. It has become tired and quarrelsome.

The military conduct of this war is outside this campaign. It is and must remain completely out of politics . . . if there is civilian interference (with the military) the new administration will put a stop to it forthwith.

We shall have to work and pray and be patient and make sacrifices to achieve a really lasting peace . . . it is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office. We learned that in 1919.

We have had men in Washington who were notoriously weak in certain branches of arithmetic but who specialized in division.

It is the New Deal which tells us that America has lost its capacity to grow. We shall never build a better world by listening to those counseils of defeat.

The military conduct of this war is outside this campaign. It is and must remain completely out of politics . . . if there is civilian interference (with the military) the new administration will put a stop to it forthwith.

We shall have to work and pray and be patient and make sacrifices to achieve a really lasting peace . . . it is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office. We learned that in 1919.

PLAN TO BLOCK "INVASION" OF MEAN BEETLES

Harrisburg, June 29 (AP) — The Department of Agriculture started a flank attack on the Japanese beetles this week with plans to halt their invasion and eventually drive them out of Pennsylvania. Under the direction of Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, traps were placed in the northwestern counties to test whether the insects have invaded the only section of the state still free of the pests.

3 Counties Open

The traps were baited with an aromatic oil that attracts but does not kill the beetles. Most of the traps were placed in yards and gardens of private residences with the permission of the owners.

To date the only quarantine-free areas in Pennsylvania are parts of Erie, Crawford, and Mercer counties. The heavily infested areas continue to be in that section south and east of Harrisburg.

Should the tests disclose that the beetles have remained out of the northwestern counties the department planned to concentrate all efforts on eradicating the pests from areas where quarantine regulations are now in effect.

Fresh "Dated" Eggs

Fresh "dated" eggs proved highly successful in their first test in this state and E. J. Lawless, Jr., head of the Bureau of Markets in the state Agriculture Department, now plans similar service on sweet corn, dressed poultry and various fruits and vegetables during the summer months.

A chain store organization that initiated the idea of "dated" eggs reported that sales increased 65 per cent in the first six months of the experiment. Prior to using "dated" eggs the stores sold slightly more than 318,000 dozen eggs, but the demand for the new product sent sales up to 525,545 dozen.

The plan used by the stores to produce "dated" eggs started with the farmers taking the eggs to cooperatives at Doylestown, Coatesville, and other points in Montgomery county. They are candled to see that each egg is absolutely fresh.

Then they are graded, packed in cartons, stamped with a date and shipped to the nearest city markets. The cartons are placed in self-service refrigerated display cases in the chain stores.

Get Lifetime Certificate

The Pennsylvania Dairymen's association awarded a meritorious lifetime certificate to the Hershey farms, founded by Milton S. Hershey, for the accomplishment of six Holstein cows, four of which produced over 4,000 pounds of butterfat in a lifetime and the other two near the same poundage.

Two of the cows represented production for nine years, one eight years, and three over a seven-year period.

5 PLAYMATES, AGES 8 TO 15, ARE DROWNED

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 29 (AP) — "Mother told me," 12-year-old Bernadine Adziorko sobbed today, "not to play in the water."

Bernadine obeyed, and lived. But it fell to her to break the news that five playmates, whose mothers also had warned them against the Susquehanna's swift current, had drowned in 10 feet of water.

They were riding on a log near the river's west bank at Exeter, five miles north of here, late yesterday when two of them fell off. Then the log upset, throwing the others into the water.

Before she ran for help Bernadine saw one of the girls, Dolores Gadello, 15, only one who could swim, try to save the others, but Dolores too sank beneath the choppy surface.

Neighbors wouldn't believe, at first, Bernadine's excited story. But Paul Ripple, an expert swimmer, and two companions dived and found the bodies in a hole in the river bed.

All Bodies Recovered

Several thousand persons, relatives of the dead girls among them, lined both banks as the bodies, one by one, were brought to the surface.

Exeter physicians and firemen from five nearby communities tried artificial respiration without success.

Besides Dolores the victims were Verna Galli, eight; Geraldine Smith, 10; Therese Modlefski, 13, and Taka Janiszki, 10.

A few hours later Andrew Pacovsky, 15, of Edwardsville, dived into a pond near the Luzerne anthracite colliery breaker and never came up. A search for the body continued early today.

The boy's death brought the Wyoming valley drowning toll to 10 in a week.

GONE BUT NOT, ETC.

Mizpah, Mont. (AP) — Heavy rainfall washed out the Mizpah bridge, but local residents are keeping track of it. They have notified downstream communities their bridge last was seen floating toward the Powder river and how was it getting along, please?

DEWEY HIGHLIGHTS

Chicago, June 29 (AP) — Highlights of the acceptance speech by Republican Presidential Nominee Thomas E. Dewey:

I come to this task a free man. I have made no pledges, promises or commitments, expressed or implied to any man or woman.

This election will bring an end to one-man government in America.

I have not sought this responsibility . . . with the help of God, I shall try to be worthy of the trust.

The present national administration . . . in its young days did some good things. But now it has grown old in office. It has become tired and quarrelsome.

The military conduct of this war is outside this campaign. It and must remain completely out of politics . . . if there is civilian interference (with the military) the new administration will put a stop to it forthwith.

We shall have to work and pray and be patient and make sacrifices to achieve a really lasting peace . . . it is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office. We learned that in 1919.

We have had men in Washington who were notoriously weak in certain branches of arithmetic but who specialized in division.

It is the New Deal which tells us that America has lost its capacity to grow. We shall never build a better world by listening to those counseils of defeat.
